

IIC Partners Welcomes Farber Into Membership

IIC Partners expands in Canada with the addition of offices in Toronto and Vancouver

New York, NY – September 16, 2019 – IIC Partners Executive Search Worldwide (www.iicpartners.com), one of the world's top ten global executive search organizations, announced today the acceptance of Farber's Interim Management and Executive Search practice (<https://farbergroup.com/>) into membership.

Farber's search practice, with professionals based in Toronto and Vancouver, specializes in carrying out interim management and executive search assignments across a broad variety of industry sectors for all senior leadership and C-suite functions. Their access to an extensive network of executives nationally enables them to recruit the best available talent for their clients. They are focused on providing an exceptional experience to their candidates which has set them apart from other firms in Canada.

Ian Brenner, Partner at Farber, commented, "Joining a leading global network is a significant milestone in the development of our search practice. In addition to broadening the reach of our clients by accessing the best available talent globally, we are looking forward to collaborating with a diverse group of network partners and enhancing the quality of our services through the exchange of best practices."

Charlene Bergman, Managing Director at Farber, commented that "the Canadian market requires international talent and many of our clients call upon us for search support in their global operations. Partnering with IIC member firms, particularly in the US, will provide greater opportunities to both candidates and clients. This is very exciting for us. "

Christine Hayward, Executive Director of IIC Partners, remarked: "As a global firm, having a presence in Canada is critical to our organization. We are excited that Farber's search practice will represent IIC Partners in this important market. This is a search firm that shares our values, and who have a strong commitment to quality and professionalism. We are thrilled to welcome Farber into our network."
